Charity:

Thanks for your email below. I'm not planning to represent Anna and the LLC in the federal action, and Anna is currently working on retaining defense counsel for that lawsuit.

Regarding the prior settlement offer, I notified Anna of your response that no further settlement negotiations will be entertained. Still, the litigation that has ensued since your appeal to district court has gotten out of hand. You've indicated that it's taken a toll on you, and the same is true for Anna. So, before she spends additional time and resources in state and federal courts, Anna has asked me to request what you want for all this to be over. If you are interested, this is your opportunity to propose terms for discussion, aimed at letting all parties move on.

David:

As I've already stated, I will no longer engage in further discussion. I've also made it clear that I will not tolerate gaslighting, and this continued pattern of communication crosses that line. I'll remind you again that an automatic stay is in effect under N.C. Gen. Stat. § 1-294, and any attempt to initiate settlement discussions at this stage is improper and not part of lawful procedure—especially since you are not representing her in the federal lawsuit. Communication from this point forward will only be accepted on matters regarding proper service of required filings. Any other attempt will be documented and treated as harassment.
